Mokena Extends Its' Hand Of Welcome To All!

13th Annual

HOMECOMING

AUGUST 15 - 16 - 17

HOMECOMING again! There's a lift of the spirit and a warming of the heart. There is laughter and youth. Sixty joins hands with twenty. None escapes the spell. On these happydays of Homecoming the old grow young and youth throws off the grasp of time.

To get into the spirit of the occasion, Homecomers, and those who have remained at home all the time, here in quiet old Mokena. Mingle with the crowds. Shake hands with old friends. You will find a host of them, all so very glad to see you.

This is Mokena's 13th Annual Homecoming (and this time 13 is indeed a lucky number). In the 12 preceding celebrations the News-Bulletin has covered every inch of Mo-kenas' history. So we have called this our Landmark Edition, for landmarks have truly an important place in the life of any community. They are important alike to the "native" and the stranger within the gates.

Have a good time, Homecomers and tarry awhile. Mokena likes you. We're all homefolks here and we welcome you back from the bottom of our hearts, even if for only an afternoon. And we welcome visitors too, and want to make your acquaintance, one and all.

We'll be seeing you on Front Street, right now the busiest, the friendliest and the happiest mile in the world.

GIFT OF LAND OPENED WAY FOR MOKENA'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

In keeping with the theme of this year's homecoming edition, Old Land Marks, we present a story on two of the oldest church buildings still being used in Mokena.

The property on which St. Mary's Catholic church in Mokena stands was at one time part of the farm of Mathias Enders, great grandfather of Miss Mary Elizabeth Schuster, 704 Buell avenue, Joliet, who says:

"Almost a century ago, on February 20, 1860, my great grandparents gave the land for this church St. Mary's in Mokena. Mathias Enders served as church sexton, and in this church yard my great grandparents now lie at rest."

The early parishioners built the church, and Miss Schuster's great grandfather also helped work in the construction of the church building.

The deed to the church property is recorded in Will County court house on Book 64, Page 298. It is dated February 20, 1860, and is signed by Mathias Enders and Margaret Enders, his wife, in the presence of O. McGovney, notary public. It bears the signature of A. McIntosh, recorder of deeds.

The deed is made out to the bishop of the Roman Catholic church of Chicago, County of Cook, for use of said church at Mokena, Ill., and deeds the following described real estate, to wit:

"One quarter of land out of the west half of the Northwest quarter of Section Eight (8) in Township Thirty-Five (35) North Range Twelve, east of the third principal meridian and bounded as follows:

"Commencing forty-six rods west of the southeast corner of said lot and running thence north two rods, thence west sixteen rods, thence south ten rods to the south line of said lot, thence east on said line to the place of beginning.

"This deed is made for the benefit of said Roman Catholic church, and if at any time said lot should be vacated and not used for said purpose then this deed will be non-effective and the title of said land fall back to the party of the first part."

The picture shown above is a reproduction of a Christmas card which Mary Schuster sent out last Christmas season. It is a reproduction of an oil painting of St. Mary's church, painted by Miss Schuster, which is 18x24 inches. The card, which is beautifully done, is lithographed in blue. It shows the church on the outside fold and the inside carries this inspiring verse:

"St. Mary's bells ring out to say,
Just as in great-grandfather's day,
The message old but ever new,
Peace on earth, good will to you,
Who follow in Christ's way.
May God bless you,
For Christmas,
For New Years,
For always."

Mr. and Mrs. Martin B. Schuster and Mrs. Elizabeth Schuster will note that the artist took some liberties with the St. Mary's landscape, but this was done for purposes of art alone. The two tombstones in the lower left hand corner, the taller stone with the cross and the lower cylindrical stone resemble those of the artist's great grandfather and her great grandmother, Margaret Summers Enders, who lived to the advanced age of 102.

St. Mary's church is much the same as it was in those early days when our pioneer forefathers broke ground for the building. However, a few changes have been made of recent years. A hall was built and about two years ago the upstairs of the hall was converted into a parochial school. Last year the church purchased a house next to the hall for a convent, and here the sisters now live.

Pastor of St. Mary's is Father Juniper Freitag. He came to the Mokena charge succeeding Father Benedict.

BOY SCOUTS
AT MORRIS

Over 600 campers have already been registered at Boy Scout reservation, the Boy Scout camp of the Rainbow Council, Boy Scouts of America, at Morris. These campers included 103 leaders and staff who attended the Boy Scout Aquatic school and 32 Boy Scout troops with 564 Scouts and leaders who attended camp during the four weeks of Boy Scout camp from June 22 to July 20. In addition to the campers, over 600 parents and friends visited the camp each week to view the Wednesday evening aquatic activities and stunt campfire, and the Friday night awards campfire and Order of the Arrow calling out ceremony.

Many new program items as well as improved physical developments were available at camp this year. The program of the camp was under the direction of Walter Johnson, Joliet.

A new amphitheatre was in use for the first time as a camp fire area and for the Order of the Arrow calling out ceremony. The rifle range, under the direction of Bill McLeod, has been completely remodeled, and is affiliated with the National Rifle association. Paul White, Bradley was in charge of the aquatic program with Patrick Granger, Kankakee, as his assistant to the pool and Pete Geuther in charge of the boating and canoeing program. Donald Wharrie, Coal City was the assistant boating instructor. Each week several Scouts earned merit badges in the aquatic field including rowing, canoeing, swimming, and life saving. Marker of the Place Where The First Steel Plow Was Made

In last year's Homecoming edition we published an article on the first steel plow which was built in Homer township over 100 years ago.

We are glad to present a picture of the marker which was erected a number of years ago, marking the farm where this first steel plow was built.

Because necessity is the mother of invention, so it was with this first steel plow. The virgin sod was hard and heavy and the wooden plows used to break the sod then broke often. It occurred to a lad who was living with the John Lane family, the latter being also a blacksmith, that a steel plow would not break so often and how wonderful it would be to have a plow of steel.

One day this young lad suggested to Mr. Lane, "why don't you make a steel plow?" That inspired Mr. Lane to seek steel for which he went to a saw mill to get some broken steel saw blades. Of these he made a steel plow and to his great joy and surprise it worked marvelously. Then everyone wanted Mr. Lane to make them steel plows and the demand exceeded the steel supply and he had to send to England to get a supply.

This marker is six feet wide and three feet high and is located corner Gougar road and 7th street out of Lockport. It is quite significant that now, along side this marker of progress of more than 100 years ago, is a sign telling of a high pressure oil line running next to it, bringing oil to heat our homes and run farm equipment etc., from oil fields in Texas and other southern states thousands of miles away—another important step in progress.

The son of the young man who suggested the making of a steel plow is Henry Burch, 90 years old, who is hail and hearty and lives on his farm with his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, about a half mile from the above marker.

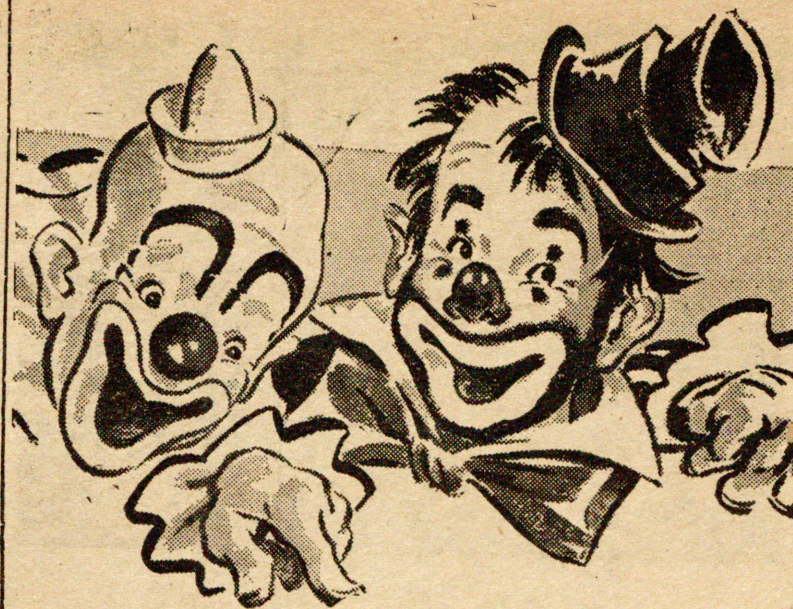

Relatives of Mr. Lane who live in that territory are James Frazer, a great grand son, grandchildren, Mrs. Fred Trask, Lockport and George C. Frazer, Joliet.

From Files of 30 Years Ago

The Rock Island railroad celebrated its 70th anniversary on October 10 by running a special train from Chicago to Joliet, run on the schedule of the first train. On it were some of the old-timers who rode on the first train. All the stations along the route, including Mokena, were gaily decked with bunting and flags and a moving picture machine on the rear coach took pictures at each depot. At Joliet, the end of the run, a huge boulder brought from Colorado, was unveiled with ceremonies in the Court House square, in honor of S. S. Reed, civil engineer who surveyed the first Rock Island line in Illinois. A tablet on the stone bears an inscription.

An ad in the October 27 issue quoted coal at the Bechstein coal office at $1. a ton. Another ad, that of George L. Hacker, is that of a house for sale with five large airy rooms, bath, pantry, wash room, a large clothes closet, large front porch, screened-in kitchen porch, good concrete cistern electric lights, city water, furnace heat, several built-in cabinets, colonnade etc. on 26x40 foot lot with basement under entire building, $4200.

Mrs. N. F. Heiman entertained the Home Improvement club in her home when Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, candidate for state representative was a speaker.

While not an old land mark, this picture of the WLS radio broadcasting station on the outskirts of Mokena on route 45, is a landmark of today. Here all programs of the station are sent out on the air waves. The upper picture shows the base of the broadcasting antenna and equipment house.

The above is a picture of a float which Mokena entered in the centennial parade of Will County held in Joliet a number of years ago. It recalls to our mind at this time the old log cabin which stood until just the past few years on the late John Cappel farm on Wolf road. Mrs. Cappel's mother, Mrs. Stork, who died in her 99th year, was born in that log cabin.

Above is shown another old time scene, the forerunner of the concrete Wolf road. This shows the road as it was traveled by the Indians long ago and as it was previous to the blessed event of concreting. We wonder now, how one could ever do without concrete roads.

Strange Stone Found Near Mokena

We quote from our file of October 6, 1922 when the following interesting story was published:

"One of the most strange and marvelous inscribed stones ever seen in Will county is in the possession of Herman Lahman of Mokena. Mr. Lahman discovered this curious stone while plowing a few years ago. The plow struck one edge of the stone about 10 inches in the ground. When Mr. Lahman picked the stone out of the ground he was impressed with its odd shape and spots. He cast it on a pile of other stones gathered in the field. The following spring he hauled the stones off the field and used them in a concrete foundation for a farm building."

"He then noticed this strangely spotted stone again, and cast it aside. The next day he found it ready to go in with the concrete, but again cast it aside. This time he put it in the barn. Last winter he polished the stone and took it in the house. The oddity of the stone aroused his attention again and this time he gave it a more close examination."

"To his great surprise, Mr. Lahman found that by holding the stone a certain way, miniature pictures and inscriptions were seen on small white pieces of stone proper, which is of a dark green color. The stone weights about three pounds and is in the shape of a large egg. By careful study, figures of animals, fish, snakes, pocket knives and Noah's ark and other objects were plainly discernable."

"The most curious part is the faces of persons and even of Christ, which are seen on the white parts of the stone. One figure appears with a halo around its head."

"The past week Mr. Lahman brought this curious stone to the News-Bulletin office, and upon being placed under a magnifying glass, the objects mentioned could be clearly seen, also figures and the word 'Thal', meaning valley in German, can be easily read. There are various figures and letters, but what meaning they have cannot be determined. Whether this curious stone is a freak of nature, or whether it was made by human hands, is a puzzle. It would appear, though, that some person surely must have engraved the various objects in the stone. Some of the inscriptions and carvings are so fine that they can only be discerned thru the aid of a powerful magnifying glass."

"Whether this stone tells the history of some ancient race or civilization is a conjecture. Mr. Lahman has shown this odd stone to many people, and he has been offered $100 for it, but he refuses to sell it. Perhaps if some expert geologist would examine the stone, he might be able to decipher some of its odd figures, which surely must interpret something."

"No other stones of similar character have been found in this section, and Mr. Lahman has not found any more in the field where this one was found. No house has ever stood on the site where the stone was found."

"The stone is studded with fully 200 small white stones; on the face of each one appears some kind of inscription."

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. Elmer Cooper underwent an operation in Silver Cross hospital Thursday. She is convalescing as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher attended the wedding of his sister in Chicago Sunday.

The Civics class of the Mokena high school held a debate. The class resolved itself into a duplicate of the House of Representatives at Washington. Robert Geuther was the leader of the government and Philip Hacker, leader for the opposition. Each member of the class was a representative from one of the states. The government brought in a bill for the nationalizing of the coal mines of the United States. The bill was keenly debated by both sides, but was carried.

On account of the Chattanooga the Mokena Home Improvement club did not meet in August.

MOKENA METHODIST CHURCH ANOTHER OLD LANDMARK STILL BEING USED

Another old Mokena landmark the beginnings of which tax the memory of even the oldest inhabitant, is the Methodist church on Second street. This church is now 85 years old.

Twenty eight pastors have served this church in the past 85 years. The present pastor is Rev. Ronald H. Hartung.

Historical records of the early beginnings of the church are scant. However, many years ago the late editor of The News-Bulletin, William Semmler, found the only available bit of history on the dedication of the Methodist church. He discovered that a marble slab on an old mahogany table in the church was about to fall, and when putting the slab back in place he noticed the following inscription on the underside of the slab, written in old-fashioned script.

"This church was dedicated on the 15th day of December, 1867. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Kidder of Evanston, Ill. The pastor of the church was Rev. Lucius Hawkins, P. E. of the District Rev. W. F. Stewart."

Who wrote this bit of history, or when it was written, is a mystery.

The first record noted in the conference minutes is found in the journal of 1866 of the Rock River Conference, at which time William E. Stewart, the presiding elder of the Joliet District shows the appointment of Rev. A. B. Salisbury, to Mokena. In the report of the Missions fund, Mokena is shown to have received $200, but it is not stated for what purpose the money was to be used. It can be surmised that probably this money was used for a start towards the building of a church.

The people worshipped in the schoolhouse prior to the time of the building of this church, which would indicate that there had been a class for some time.

It is possible that there was both a Baptist organization and a Methodist organization even in those days, for it seems to have been but a few years later that both groups were using the present church building as a union church for worship purposes.

In later years a controversy arose between the Baptists and the Methodists, which led to a court case to determine the ownership of the building.

Around Christmastime in December, 1927, the church held a four-day 60th anniversary celebration which came to a grand climax on a Sunday afternoon with a service replete with old-time fervor and rich in historical interest. The celebration opened on Thursday night. The outstanding feature of the evening was a wonderful address by Dr. W. E. J. Gratz, editor of the Epworth Herald and a speaker of note. His address was entitled "Adventure" and was of extraordinary interest, being based on the lives of young people of that day and of the future.

Sunday afternoon the grand climax came with a wonderful inspirational service. Historical paper was read showing how the church was first organized and how the little church had faced storm and stress throughout the sixty years of its life.

Congratulatory messages were received from many former ministers including a rather long one from W. B. Norton, then religious editor of the Chicago Tribune, who, by the way, was the pastor of Mokena's Methodist church in 1906.

The Sunday afternoon meeting was called a "Community Vision Meeting, and was under the direction of Dr. O. F. Beck, professor at Garrett Biblical institute, a speaker of considerable note, and a specialist in church community work who was in constant demand as an advisor to localities which found themselves becoming a part of Chicago's great suburban districts and whose populations desired that their villages might grow in a natural way and retain their moral stability and community spirit.

At the close of the four-day celebration the building was rededicated to the worship of God and the good of the community. Dr. Beck had charge of the rededication service.

Despite the extremely cold weather that prevailed during the celebration the services were well attended. These four days stand out as red letter days in the history of the little church, and are, in fact, the biggest days this church has enjoyed in a spiritual way since the day of its dedication.

The church now is planning to remodel from this original building to overcome the crowded condition. Plans have been drawn and many steps taken for the forward movement.

By using a magnifying glass and looking through the trees on the right of the church picture a part of the old St. John's Evangelical church may be seen.

Exhibit Charters 9 Ill. Cities at Fair 100 Years Old

Photostatic copies of the incorporation charters of nine Illinois cities and towns which were granted 100 years ago will be on display at the Illinois State Library exhibit at the Centennial Illinois State Fair, Aug. 8 to 17. Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, state librarian, announced today.

The actions were taken by the State Legislature at a special session in 1852, Mr. Barrett said. The cities and towns whose charters will be shown are Belvidere, Bloomington, Joliet, LaSalle, Monmouth, Rockford, Rock Island, Thebes and Woodstock. In addition, an amendment passed that year to the charter for Little Rock changed the city's name to Waukegan.

Another act passed by the 1852 special session, and which will also be on display, reapportioned the state's Congressional districts in accordance with the 1850 census. Secretary Barrett said. The act established nine districts. Today there are 25.

Other incorporation papers to be shown are those establishing Mercy Hospital and Mercy Orphan Asylum of Chicago, and the Winnebago County Agricultural Society.

The Illinois State Library exhibit will be in the same location it has occupied for several years, the northwest corner of the balcony in the Exposition building.

AAA Says Present Method of Gas Tax Use is Obsolete

A major shift in the American Automobile Association's policy on federal aid to highways was made at a recent meeting of the organization's highway committee, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club announced.

Hayes said that the group recommends that as long as the government persists in taxing motorists, the amount of federal aid funds should be equivalent to the sum collected in federal gasoline taxes.

Never before, Hayes pointed out, has the motorists' organization made any recommendations as to the specific amount of federal aid that should be granted for use on highways. It has taken the view that Congress should decide what highway needs were.

The club official said that the federal government collected more than 25 million dollars in federal gasoline taxes in Illinois last year. This figure, he estimated, will leap to between 40 and 45 million dollars next year.

In addition to the policy change, the Committee is developing a new formula for the distribution of federal aid highway funds on the grounds that the present method is obsolete. At present, distribution is based on area, population, and miles of roads in a state.

Taken From Our Files 30 Years Ago

Plans were published for the Chautauqua that was held at Mokena for four days starting August 30. An excellent program was presented in the large tent specially erected.

Contract was let for new pews in the new St. John's Evangelical church at a cost of $1900.

J. G. Oswald and force have started work on laying bricks for the new addition to the Mokena State Bank.

George Koeller entertained his class of boys in the Methodist church by taking them to Lincoln Park and the Pageant of Progress in Chicago. Clyde Knudson accompanied them.

The 56th annual camp meeting opened at the New Lenox camp grounds.

Work was started on the paving of 143rd street in Orland extending west for five miles.

The directors of the Mokena public school announced the opening of a two year term high school and also installing equipment for a play ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Barney and family from Chicago were guests of Mrs. Lizzie Moriarty.

Rev. Neumeyer, pastor of the Tinley Park German Methodist church wrote an article on "Rural Community Library" which was published in the Oct. 6, 1922 issue.

OLDEST MOKENA LANDMARK—PIONEER CEMETERY

By Charles A. Singler

Outstanding among Mokena's old landmarks is Pioneer Memorial cemetery on Wolf road, a few rods south of the Rock Island tracks. This cemetery is unique among the cemeteries of this state. There are many old churchyards in which the grave-stones tell their story of antiquity, but it is not every cemetery that holds the hallowed remains of a soldier of the Revolutionary war of 1776. Pioneer Memorial cemetery does.

In this cemetery lies the body of Charles Denny, Revolutionary war hero. He lies in a sunny spot, close to Wolf road. Nearby, a muted cannon points its three-inch muzzle forever towards the setting sun.

A Revolutionary war hero buried in the heart of Illinois! One may well pause to wonder what brought him so far west of the Hudson.

This aroused the interest of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and in 1939, exactly one century after the death of this soldier, the D. A. R. placed a large granite boulder to mark the spot where Charles Denny lies. In front of the boulder is a small American flag, and behind it is the original stone tablet on which, over-printed on a U. S. shield graven in the stone, are these words, still clearly legible:

Chas. Denny,
Hopkins, N. Y., Mil.
Rev. War

"Dedicated to Charles Denny born in Pauldingtown, Dutchess County, N. Y., Dec. 25, 1759, died in Will county, Illinois, August 6, 1839. He served in the Revolutionary war under Capt. Noah Wheeler, Col. Roswell Hopkins' regiment, Dutchess county, N. Y. troops. Erected by General Henry Dearborn Chapter, D. A. R., 1939."

The dedication of the boulder was made on Armistice Day, November 11, 1939. The war hero was buried in this plot a century earlier, in 1839. Impressive patriotic services were held on this Armistice Day, in charge of Mrs. Eugene Rogers, regent of the General Henry Dearborn Chapter of the D. A. R. of Chicago. The invocation was offered by Mrs. Edward L. Cornell, then Illinois State Chaplain, D. A. R. Mayor Henry F. Mall gave an address of welcome. Publisher William Semmler, now deceased, gave an account of finding the Denny grave many years ago while looking for material for feature articles while he was a reporter on the old Joliet News.

Two Civil War heroes were also buried in the same plot.

We wonder if Charles Denny would not turn over in his grave if he knew that since he fought to help win America's first good fight for freedom, 176 years ago, his country has been engaged in eight other costly and bloody wars: 1812, 1846, 1861, 1898, 1916, 1917, 1941 and 1950.

"On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead."

Other dead lie in this cemetery where the grass is kept cut by the Mokena Civic Association, and where birds of many colors flit about among the few trees—old settlers of Will county who laid down the good fight long years ago. Just how many lie in this ancient burial ground is not known, but it is certain that many more are buried here than is indicated by the 29 white stone tablets which line the cemetery in five different rows, like so many rows of ghosts.

A verse from Gray's Elegy Written In a Country Churchyard seems to fit appropriately into this quiet scene:

"Beneath these rugged elms, that yew tree's shade,
Where heaves the turf in many a mouldering heap,
Each in his narrow cell forever laid,
The rude forefathers of the hamlet sleep."

Close to the spot where the early war hero rests quietly through the years is another stone tablet about four-and-a-half feet high by 18 inches wide. The carborundum of time has dealt harshly with this stone, for the only word of the legend that can be read on it is the word DIED.

One of the most weatherworn stones, in eloquent simplicity, tells us, "Sibyl, wife of Ephraim Bonnell, who died May 11, 1844." That, by the way, was 108 years ago!

Another old marker is that over the grave of Barbara Shaffer, who died September 15, 1846. More than a century of the elements has rendered almost illegible the legend cut into the stone.

In the center of this hallowed ground is a row of 12 stone tablets, nearly every one of which has yielded its legend to the elements decades ago. The most northerly of these markers is a tablet about the size of an ordinary business letterhead. All that the passing years have left for us to read on this ancient stone tablet is the single word, in Gothic capitals—TRUMAN.

The fifth and most easterly row of stone tablets lies in the shade of the wide-spreading branches of a chokeberry tree. The tree shelters them all.

As I left Pioneer Memorial cemetery, the sun was still blazing hotly overhead and the swish of a dozen jets, flying in formation, came from high up in the sky—a disturbing note in this peaceful scene. I gave a farewell glance to the muted cannon, the granite boulder and the white stone tablet of the Revolutionary war soldier buried here. Had it been daybreak, just then, I might have fancied hearing the hoofbeats of Paul Revere's horse pounding down Wolf road.

The following is the address as given by the late Editor William Semmler at the dedication of the Pioneer Memorial cemetery and monument of the Revolutionary war soldier's grave.

"When the early settlers first came westward and set foot in this territory in the early thirties, they made provisions for schools and churches and also provided a special parcel of land to be set aside for a final resting place of their loved ones.

Thus it was that the Denney family numbered among the early settlers and who were prominent in the life of their community in their day and who owned considerable land in this locality, set aside this plot of ground on which we are gathered, for a local cemetery."

The dates on the tombstones here go back to the forties, but there is one grave which is even older, that of Chas. Denney, a revolutionary war soldier. For many years the history of this patriot of Washington's day was shrouded in obscurity. Thru the efforts and diligent search of the records of the Library of the society, "The Sons of The American Revolution", Attorney Chas. B. Elder of Mokena and a past state officer of this Society, a very interesting historical sketch of the soldier was revealed. Mr. Denney was born in Pauldingtown, Dutchess County, New York, Dec. 25, 1759. When the revolutionary war broke out he rallied to the call of independence and in the summer of 1777 he enlisted in the Continental Army and served for nine months under captains Noal Wheeler, and Seth Wheeler with Col. Roswell Hopkins in the New York troops. Later he came to Will County, settling near Joliet where he died August 6, 1839 at the age of 79 years and was buried in this cemetery.

This hallowed spot continued to be used for a burial ground for many years. At the close of the Civil War two veterans of the Union Army who had fought to preserve the union and free the slaves, also passed on to the Great Beyond. They were Henry Brill and Abraham Evans but no history of these men has been found and no marker was ever placed on their graves so their exact location in this cemetery cannot be determined.

With the passing of the years down the dim corridors of time, relatives and friends of the persons buried here, either located in other parts of the country or also passed away until finally there was no one left who was interested enough to keep the graves and grave site in a good state of preservation and the old cemetery was soon forgotten and the memory of those sleeping here became shrouded in obscurity.

Brush, weeds and a mass of tangled grape vines and underbrush soon overran the place. Nature, however, did not quite forget the dead, as many wild flowers sprang up to decorate the mounds of old settler and soldier alike.

This scene of desolation continued for many years. Time and again patriotic citizens and village boards would cut down the weeds and brush, but nothing was done to perpetuate the memory of those resting here.

It was only recently that the Mokena Garden Club imbued with the idea of beautifying their community turned their attention to this cemetery and decided to make it a memorial tribute to the memory of the citizens of the long ago and of the patriotic buried here.

After interesting town and village officials in their plan to reclaim this spot, the Garden Club succeeded in having the weeds, brush, etc., removed and raised stones which had fallen on the graves and had been overgrown with grass for years.

Now that the task of restoring this plot to a neat appearance has gotten under way, the Garden Club felt that it would be the proper thing to make this burial ground a memorial park and that it should have a name to designate it as such.

After much consideration it was decided that this hallowed spot should from henceforth be known as "The Pioneer Memorial Cemetery" and this time I have the honor and privilege and, now I, therefore dedicate the name of this spot to be: "The Pioneer Memorial Cemetery." And it should stand as a tribute to those who have gone on before and also as a reminder to generations yet to come of the early pioneer and the patriots who fought for our independence and for the preservation of our union."

MOKENA ALL SET FOR HOMECOMING

Deep Well Suggested as Auxiliary to Present Well at Village Board MeetingMOKENA AREA INVITED TO PEOTONE FAIR

Hundreds of men, women, boys and girls are busy preparing the livestock, handwork, grain and home produce they will exhibit at the Will county fair grounds in Peotone, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 22, 23 and 24.

Clarence Cann, president of the Will county fair association, issued a special invitation to Mokena area families not only to enter the various classes of the show, but to pack picnic baskets and to take families to the fairground for a full day.

There will be excellent picnic accommodations, entertainment, and the exhibits are expected to surpass those at any of the 48 previous Will County fairs.

Judging of the livestock will take place Friday morning, August 22. That afternoon, fair visitors will see a nationally known variety show. An excellent card of boxing matches will be presented Saturday evening. Sunday afternoon and evening entertainment will consist of all the roping, bronc riding and other hair-raising events a rodeo can muster.

Cann urged Mokena area residents to be sure that their entries are with the fair secretary from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. August 13 to 18, except on the Monday of that week, when the secretary's desk in the Peotone village hall, will be open until 9:00 p.m.

New Lenox Lions
To Hold Festival
And Auction Sale

The New Lenox Lions club will hold its fourth annual Fall Festival and Auction on the Haven avenue school grounds Friday and Saturday, August 22 and 23. A large crowd is expected.

Those who have a "white elephant" on their hands—something that is useful and in good shape but for which they can find no immediate use, but which might be prized by somebody else, might consider making a donation of it to the Lions club for this auction sale.

A survey of attics and basements will no doubt reveal many items that "are in the way" and that could be cheerfully discarded, although they still retain much inherent usefulness.

Last year's festival and auction sale was not only successful but a happy event for all who attended, and it is anticipated that this year's event will bring even larger crowds. Everybody is invited.

Two Killed in Auto
Crash Near New Len.

In an auto accident just west of New Lenox shortly before noon Monday, a man was killed and his wife critically injured. The accident occurred on Route 30.

Killed was Albert T. Johnston 63, of Flushing, N. Y. His wife, Jeanne, 58, was rushed in an ambulance to Silver Cross hospital, having sustained a fractured skull and two fractured legs. She died Monday afternoon.

The accident happened during a rain. Johnston's car ran off the pavement, according to State Officer George Jisa, and in his attempt to regain the highway Johnston apparently lost control of his car, which careened across the highway into the path of an eastbound beer truck. The impact of the crash hurled Johnston's car into a tree. Both Johnston and his wife had to be pulled from the wreckage.

The driver of the beer truck, Bernard Delaney of Spring Valley, escaped injury, but was reported suffering from shock.

Former Homer Man
Dies in California

Word has been received of the death of George I. Gillett, 77, in his home in Whitemore, Cal on July 24.

He was born on the old Gillett homestead in Homer township March 4, 1875, the son of the late David and Sarah N. Gillett. This farm was more recently known as the Blodgett home, and now belongs to the Meader family.

Mr. Gillett attended the Hadley school in Homer when a young boy. He is survived by his wife, three children, several grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Sadie G. Cooper of New Lenox and Mrs. Edith Hastert of Florida.

The Mokena village board held a special meeting Monday evening, at which time Engineer Limas H. Brown made the following suggestions for improvements in Mokena:

In place of an extra well he suggested using a deep well in town as an auxiliary to the present well. There are four such deep wells in town. One is located at the wall paper mill, another at the old school property, one at Mineral Springs, and another is the well recently drilled on the VFW property. Arrangements might be made with the owners of these deep wells whereby, in case of emergency, any one of these wells could be connected with the well now in service.

Mr. Brown of the De Leuw, Cather Co., Chicago engineers, said that the state of Illinois will not permit a storm sewer to drain into the Marley ditch north of the village if there is any septic tank draining into these storm sewers. He further stated that, according to the lay of the land in the village, a storm sewer could be installed to relieve flooded basements, but this could be done only at an excessive cost.

The board voted to contact J. T. Miller of the Artesian Well company at Brookfield and award him the contract to install a new pump, subject to his acceptance of this contract and of the report of the engineering company on performance.

Because of leakage in the pipe line leading from the present pump to the water tank a new line will have to be installed to replace the present one, and a gate valve installed which will allow water users to continue to be served while repairs are in progress.

The following program for Mokena was suggested by the engineer:

1. Water main extension on Parker and Carpenter streets, with four fire hydrants included.
2. Cross connections eliminated.
3. Rehabilitation of the present water system.
4. Place a second main under the Rock Island tracks near Wolf road, for the purpose of giving more water pressure in that area south of the tracks.

If mains are installed in an area where there are none at present, the property owners would be required to pay for these extensions based on drainage and value of the property. There is water on Carpenter and Parker streets.

If the board were to adopt this program it would require a bond issue of between $30,000 and $40,000. This would probably be spread over a period of 20 years and would be paid off by an increase in water rates.

It will be decided at the September meeting whether to pass an ordinance on this or not. The board also decided that parking in the business area must be on the right hand side of the street only.

The Civic association made a request for a permit to block off several blocks on Front street during the homecoming celebration.

Snip 'N Snack 4-H

The first meeting of the year for the Green Garden Snip 'N' Snack 4H club was held in the town hall August 8.

The president, Frances Kurima, was in charge of the business meeting.

The following talks were given: Know Different Seam Finishes, Carol Burkhardt; Know Standards of Quality, The Shampoo and Clothing Rule 14, Evelyn Diment; Good Grooming in Hair Care, Beverly Torok; General Hair Care Practice, Beverly Goodwin; Good Grooming is Good Posture, and Kinds of Preparations of Vegetables, Marlene Schwiesow; How I Made My Scarf, Sharon Krapf; Kinds of Custards, Muriel White and Stretcher, Anne Lehnert. Thomas of Joliet, Mr. William Cleveland of Warren, Minn., Mr. Ike Cleveland of Orland Park, Mr. Clayton Cleveland and Mrs. Marshall of Marley. Friends and neighbors are welcome to call in the afternoon and at night. Mrs. Cleveland will be feted at a family dinner party.

NEW PARKING
REGULATIONS
FOR MOKENA

Parallel parking and limited parking signs have been erected in the business district on Front street in Mokena, and new Octagon STOP signs will replace the older smaller signs.

Traffic moving east will park on south side of street and traffic moving west will park on north side of street parallel with curb. Traffic moving north will park on east side of street and traffic moving south will park on west side of street parallel with curb.

It is unlawful to park within 15 feet of a fire hydrant, and that also applies to parking at stop signs at intersections. Speed restrictions within the village of Mokena on village streets are 20 miles per hour and 35 miles per hour on Wolf road. U-turns in the middle of the block are discouraged.

Trucks and other vehicles loading and unloading merchandise will see that their trucks or vehicles are so parked as not to interfere with the normal movement of traffic.

Double parking at any time is prohibited.

Effective August 14, these traffic regulations will be strictly enforced as well as loud and boisterous talk and excessive use of auto horns, and racing motors in the late evening hours. This will constitute a charge of disorderly conduct. Drive your car carefully and avoid an accident.

New Lenox PTA to Sell School Books

The New Lenox Parent Teachers association will handle the sale of school books, new and used, again this year for the New Lenox public schools, according to a statement by William Heidrich, president of the organization.

The book sale will take place at the Oakview school only on Friday August 29, and at the Haven school only on the opening day of school, September 2. The hours of the sale on Friday will be from 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and on Tuesday from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

As the publishers have issued entirely revised editions of reading materials in the first three grades and new adoptions were made for seventh and eighth grade arithmetic, there can be no resale of books used for those classes. Anyone who wants the PTA to handle the sale of their used books should bring them to either school between the hours of 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. from August 25-28 in order that the books may be priced prior to the sale dates. Sellers are requested to be certain to have slips of paper identifying ownership.

The book sale will take place at the Oakview school only on Friday August 29, and at the Haven school only on the opening day of school, September 2. The hours of the sale on Friday will be from 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and on Tuesday from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

The bridal party entered the sanctuary as appropriate music was played by Jimmie Stevenson, church organist, and before and during the ceremony James Ganser of Blue Island, sang "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

The altar was adorned with gladioli and ferns. Dr. John Phillips, pastor of the church, officiated.

Mrs. Wilbur Henry, sister in law of the groom, was matron of honor, and Miss Betty Anderson of Tinley Park was bridesmaid.

Made Local Dealer
For Lincoln Elec.

The Swanberg Farm and Auto Service, on Wolf road, in Mokena, has recently been appointed local dealer for the Lincoln Electric company, of Cleveland, O. They will sell and distribute Lincoln's line of arc welding equipment, electrodes and other welding supplies for agricultural users and service shops in this area.

"People who wonder where this younger generation is headed would do well to consider where it came from."—F. Robert Becker.

Mokena again extends the hand of friendship and bids a warm welcome to friends, neighbors, homecomers and visitors.

Again the Great White Way—Front street—will be set aside for Mokena's 13th annual Homecoming, an event that attracts people from far and wide.

There will be entertainment of various kinds to satisfy each individual taste.

Especially being emphasized this year is the farm exhibit, where everyone may see how tall the tallest corn in this area grows, and we doubt if Iowa has anything on us. Here also will be displayed the tallest sunflower, the biggest squash tomato, potato, and such other garden produce as carrots, beets, onions. The largest ear of corn will make its bid for attention, as well as calico corn.

Another exhibit that will be most interesting will be the one that features the home canning of fruits and vegetables, jellies, jams, and preserves. This will be under the management of Mrs. Roy Richardson, who is putting forth great efforts to make it attractive.

At the Homecoming there will be games of skill to attract both participant and watcher, and something to keep everyone busy and interested every hour of the time. For those who want to rest there will be ample benches, which are being furnished by the Welsh Lumber company and the New Lenox Lumber company.

Eddie Hudson, of Blue Island, is the master of ceremonies in charge of Friday and Sunday evening's program. He will also present tricks of magic that are so alluring to all age groups. Then, there will be the usual rides which the children and young people, especially, are looking forward to with eagerness.

Elmer Schoeneck is general chairman of Homecoming this year. Earl Moss is in charge of recruiting personnel to man the booths. Something new in the line of activities this year will be the auction, which is to be conducted Saturday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The collection of items for this auction was made Wednesday evening of this week from every home in Mokena.

There will be many fine items offered at the auction, ranging from a paper of pins to an automobile, and there will be loads of fun while the auction is going on. Included in the auction will be many antiques, among which will be a concertina 125 years old, which came from Germany.

There will be a refreshment stand in charge of Roy Richardson, where coffee, soft drinks, hamburgers, hot dogs and Thuringer sausage will be on sale.

The grand climax of the three day Homecoming festival will be the crowning of the Queen Sunday night, at 9:30. Awards will also be announced at this time.

This Homecoming is sponsored by the Mokena Civic association. The proceeds are to be used towards the building of an athletic field for the village. Everyone is urged to put in as many hours on Front street as possible. It will be time well spent.

John Oster to be sure to take any children starting school for the first time and those entering fifth grade to their doctors and dentists for the proper physical and dental examinations. Dear Customer and Friend:

We have received a number of requests for information as to our plans for continuing the insurance agency established by my late husband, Mel Whitaker. I believe it only fair to our customers to relieve them now of any question of the status of the agency which they might have.

It is my intention to continue to operate the agency. Mel always appreciated your patronage and friendship and worked hard to earn and retain it. I assure you that I, with the help of my son, Ronald, will make every effort to give you the same service in the future which you received in the past.

Sincerely yours,

Evelyn Whitaker

EDWARD J. BARRETT
Secretary of State

Illinois' motor vehicle laws require that your car have certain equipment, and that it be in good working order. (Sections 102 through 120, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

You may be a good driver, but unless your car is in excellent condition your chances of becoming involved in an accident are high. A brake failure, tire blow-out or similar unexpected mishap may put you in the ditch—or the cemetery.

Required equipment is shown in the illustration. You may also have a spotlight, provided you direct it down when a vehicle approaches from the opposite direction, and you may have not more than two fender or cowl lamps, one running board courtesy lamp and a back-up lamp.

The law prohibits a bell, siren or exhaust whistle, red lights showing from the front, and a muffler cutout, bypass or similar device designed to produce excessive or unusual noise.

A copy of the booklet, "Rules of the Road," containing many traffic safety suggestions, will be sent to you free upon request. Write to EDWARD J. BARRETT, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Chicago Citizens to Begin Fight Against 'Gang Rule' Crime

(CNS) The Big Nineteen, or what is now known as the Citizens of Greater Chicago, Inc., planned a meeting for sometime this week to launch its long-range program of ridding Chicago and Cook county of organized crime.

Colin Gordon, chairman of the citizens league, has announced that $105,000 has been raised to fight crime—$91,623 of that in the fund drive just completed, the remainder having been sent in by outraged citizens before the drive was opened.

At the meeting, the members will take up the appointment of an executive director for a term of five years. Fred Kramer, chairman of personnel committee, said that several well-known persons, in and out of the city, had been interviewed, with even Gen. Douglas MacArthur being considered.

Gordon said the long-range program will be aimed at breaking "the 60 year old gang rule" in the city and county and knocking out the alliance between the criminal element in city government by modernizing local political machinery.

Among proposals under consideration are the reappointment and redistributing the city's 50 wards, the possibility of a 25-man council with some members elected at large, and the election of precinct captains. Also under consideration is the police commissioner's office and the question of whether it is wise to have a politically appointed commissioner. Gordon would like to see the commissioner's office moved from city hall, the city's political hotbed, to the detective bureau, where most department work is done.

Gordon had nothing to say about the recent resignation of Charles Bane as chief counsel of the council's emergency crime committee.

The crime committee, after considerable wrangling by opposing factions in city hall, adjourned last week, finally agreeing on two points—the big one is getting a new counsel.

Health Threat Seen In Water Fluoridation

In an enlightening article entitled, "Back Door to Socialism," Dr. Alfred P. Haake, Ph.D., chairman of the Laymen's National Committee, and mayor of Park Ridge, points out the dangers inherent in the scheme to fluoridate public water supplies.

Dr. Haake's article is published below:
A counterpart of the insidious introduction of socialism to control of England through so-called social reforms, is seen in persistent efforts of the United States Health Service to effect the alleged aims of its chief to establish socialized medicine in the United States. The edge of the wedge is the innocent appearing scheme to fluoridate public water supplies as a preventative of tooth decay in young children.

The promoters of the scheme are careful not to give both sides of the question and fail to warn the public adequately of the dangers involved. Many of the public come to believe that fluorine in the water will stop tooth decay in children and even be a benefit to public health in adults. Both assumptions are mistaken. Considerable pressure is brought from the offices of dental and medical associations in some places on municipal administrations to adopt the scheme even without prior public referendum.

What may seem of little consequence, but is fraught with tremendous possible consequences in the gradual assumption by public officials of power over the lives of people, is the disregard for constitutional rights embodied in Articles 4 and 10 of the Bill of Rights, guaranteeing individual inviolability of home and person.

The fluoridation of public water supplies forces people to drink diluted rat poison with their water. We do not yet know what difference there is between naturally and artificially fluoridated waters, but even if it were believed harmless to mix the diluted poison with drinking water, no village board or city council has the constitutional right to prescribe medical treatment of the people through their drinking water, certainly not without their express and adequate prior approval.

There are dangers of uncertain degree and time of incidence which may make it little short of criminal to fluoridate public water supplies. There are claims, too serious to be ignored, that fluorine accumulating in the bodies of adults, and even of children, is a possible cause of increased deaths from heart disease, nephritis, and a possible stimulant to the growth of cancer, along with other effects not yet clearly discerned or determined. A growing number of cities, becoming aware of dangers or disappointed with results, are discontinuing the fluoridation of their water.

In Grand Rapids, Mich., reports indicate, there is an alarming unexplained increase of deaths from heart disease during the fluoridation period of 1944 to 1948, amounting to 19.24% after making allowance for changes in population and the national death rate, with an even greater increase from 1948 to 1949. The figures suggest the possibility that 112 persons per year lost their lives because of fluoridation from 1944 to 1948.

In the same city figures suggest the possibility that deaths from nephritis (disease of the kidneys) rose almost 25% during the same period of 1944 to 1948. The total of 130 additional deaths per year from both diseases has not yet been satisfactorily explained on any other basis, and there appears to be justification for the fear that fluoridation had much to do with these deaths.

The American Medical Association has admitted that not enough is yet known of the effects of fluorine on adults to make positive statements concerning those effects. We do know there are hazards to adults which are not yet measured, and indications which dare not be ignored.

In the meantime, in the judgment of this writer, no municipal administration has legal or moral right to make guinea pigs out of its citizens through whole sale medication of the water supply, especially since there are other and perhaps better alternatives for giving what benefits may be given to children through use of fluorine. A bare minimum of decent regard for the rights of citizens calls for adequate information to the public and a referendum in which not less than two-thirds approve, before action is taken to fluoridate public water supplies.

NEW SWINE DISEASE ENTERS COUNTY

A great deal of discussion is being heard among swine growers about vesicular exanthema, or a new disease among swine similar to foot and mouth disease in cattle, says Cook County Farm Advisor, Carl F. Mees.

A quarantine was placed on the state last week by the federal veterinarians, but that quarantine has been lifted for all but Orland, Barrington and Hanover townships. It is as yet uncertain whether the disease is the new swine disease or the hoof and mouth disease. Tests are being made. Hogs will not be shown at either the Arlington or Cook county fairs. Judging of hogs will be done on the farms of those who were to exhibit, after the show.

Vesicular exanthema is a disease of swine caused by the filterable virus Hostis exanthematicus. Horses are also susceptible. The disease was first observed in California in garbage-fed swine in the years 1932-33. It has recently been diagnosed in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, New Jersey, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah and Washington.

Vesicular exanthema is transmitted by contact with or consumption of food and water contaminated with the virus. Uncooked garbage that contains pork trimmings has often been the source of the virus.

The lesions are almost identical with those of foot and mouth disease.

Animal inoculation is necessary. Swine and horses inoculated with suspected material that contains the virus will show lesions. Horses are susceptible to only the A and C strains of the virus.

Suspected cases should be reported immediately to the state livestock regulatory officials.

Jerry Jacobs Hurt In Pre-game Practice

In a doubleheader between the York White Roses, (St. Louis Brown's Class B Team), and the Hagerstown Braves, Jerry Jacobs home run with two mates on base, gave York a 3-2 decision in the opener. York lost the 2nd game.

Jerry, who is a Tinley Park boy, suffered an injury the next day in pre-game practice, when a ball thrown by the York catcher, hit him flush on the cheek. First reports indicated his jawbone may have been fractured. The full extent of the injury is still uncertain, although it is not considered to be serious.

Why He Failed

Lesson for August 17, 1952

THERE IS NO such thing as a "nation" apart from the people who compose it. Destroy the people, destroy the nation; build up the people, build up the nation. Some people are, of course, key persons. What they do and are affects a vast number of people besides themselves. Such persons can make the difference between failure and success for an entire nation. Their tragedy or triumph is their nation's tragedy or triumph. Suppose Napoleon and Hitler had been at last successful? Suppose Alfred the Great and Abraham Lincoln had failed?

A Double-Minded Man

SAUL, first king of Israel, is a tragic illustration of all this. He was a big handsome man with a creditable war-record; so the people elected him as their first king. It was not the first time, nor the last, that a man's military record has misled people to believe that he was good in other respects as a leader.

Saul had some serious defects in his character, so serious that they led to his personal failure. One of these faults was a general instability. He would make promises and not keep them.

You could not be sure whether he was friend or foe. He turned against members of his own family. He professed to want to know God's will and yet he would not do it. He officially stamped out witchcraft and yet he consulted a witch when in trouble. He would make vows and then back down from them. "A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways," it would be written many centuries later. Such a man makes a poor follower, and a fatally bad leader.

A Jealous Man

JEALOUSY is a word too often limited. It should not be confined to the way a boy feels when another one is stealing his girl, or vice versa. It refers to the mean feeling people have about any one who in any way, as they think, is out to "do them in."

Now this King Saul was a jealous man, as most dictators are. One of the great kings of Egypt could not bear to think of any other king as having built better buildings than he; so he employed the royal chisels to remove from every public building the name of any other Pharaoh and replace it with his own.

King Saul could not be jealous of the kings before him; for there were none. But he could be insanely jealous of any one he thought might be more popular than himself.

So we find him pursuing David vindictively, relentlessly, first making an outlaw of him, then a fugitive among Israel's enemies.

A Superstitious Man

THE FAMOUS STORY (Chap. 28) of Saul and the witch at En-Dor raises a number of questions to which nobody has the guaranteed answers. One thing, however, is clear from that story: Saul was a superstitious man. He thought that the dead could be conjured right out of the ground.

Whether the woman of En-Dor actually conjured Samuel up, or only induced Saul to think she did, the reader must judge for himself. The point is that Saul, who paid small attention to Samuel living, was very eager to talk with his ghost.

Superstition marks a man as full of fears, for fear is the food of superstitions. Fear also was the root of Saul's jealousy; and fear at last drove him to suicide. True leaders must be made of sterner stuff.

A Disloyal Man

SAUL FAILED not only because he was shiftless, jealous and a coward. He failed because he was disloyal to God.

His public career began by his recognizing in Samuel a prophet of God, and in Samuel's instructions the will of God. But as time went on he took counsel only with himself; he listened to Samuel only when it was convenient. And so God rejected him.

Whatever a man's qualifications may be, if he compromises his own ideals, if he will not live up to what he recognizes to be best, if he will not listen to men of God, if he sets his own will above the will of the people, even above the will of God, then he is not only not a wise leader, he is a very bad one.

N. Lenox Cub Scouts' Pack 8, Meet at Baseball Diamond

Cub Scouts, Pack 8, of New Lenox, met for their regular monthly meeting at the ball diamond, Tuesday evening, July 29. The meeting was opened by Den 5 with the pledge to the flag. Charles Meyers was in charge of the remainder of the meeting.

Den 2 won the monthly award for the best parent attendance.

The scrap drive is to continue for another month, so if anyone wishes to donate any scrap iron to the Cubs it can be left at the scrap depot which is located between the fire station and Whitaker's real estate office. If any one desires a pickup, Keith Hossack will be glad to accommodate.

At this meeting Mr. Meyers stressed the importance of great parent participation, and urged the parents to attend the planning meeting which are held the next to the last Tuesday evening of each month at Haven school, at 7:30 p.m., and also the Pack meetings which are held the last Tuesday evening of the month, the place for this meeting to be announced at a later date in this paper.

The following boys were awarded their Bobcat pins: Grover Manheim, Don Carter and James Waller. Achievement pins were awarded to Larry Wennlund, wolf badge; Lester Mikalek, wolf badge and one gold and four silver arrows, and Bill Morrison, five silver arrows.

The remainder of the evening was enjoyably spent watching the Cubs play ball, under the guidance of: Fred Stone, Keith Hossack, Chester Suchoski and Will Thackeray. Much improvement was noticed in the boys' technique since the fathers have been coming down to help them perfect their game.

All Cub Scouts are requested to be at the diamond each Tuesday evening at 6:00 to practice. Dads are wanted, too.
